FIFTH ANNUAL LAND ETHICS SYMPOSIUM: CREATIVE APPROACHES FOR ECOLOGICAL LANDSCAPING

On Thursday, February 17, 2005, Bowman's Hill Wildflower Preserve will sponsor the Fifth Annual Land Ethics Symposium: Creative Approaches for Ecological Landscaping. This stimulating and informative Symposium will focus on ways to create low-maintenance, economical, and ecologically balanced landscapes using native plants and restoration techniques.

The Symposium is geared toward landscape architects, designers, contractors and other members of the landscape industry, environmental consultants, land planners, managers and developers, and state/municipal officials.

Featured speakers and topics:

**Neil Diboll, Prairie Nursery-"Five Steps to Successful Prairie Meadow Establishment"

**Sara Pevaroff Schuh, Salt Design Studio- "Revitalizing Urban Ecology"

**Jeffrey Keller, Habitat by Design-"Creating Biodiversity through Landscape Restoration"

**Mark Gutshall, LandStudies-"New Uses for Old Floodplains"

**Miles Arnott, Bowman's Hill Wildflower Preserve- "Speaking the Native Language: Choice Plants for Ecological Design"

Attendees also will have opportunities to develop contacts with colleagues and share resources. A selection of topical books from the Bowman's Hill Wildflower Preserve Twinleaf Shop will be available for purchase. Continuing education credits are available through various professional organizations. Pre-registration required by February 10.

For more information and to receive a brochure, call the Preserve at (215) 862-2924 or e-mail Nancy Beaubaire (beaubaire@bhwp.org). The brochure also is posted on the Preserve's website, <http://www.bhwp.org> (on the homepage, go to Latest News, click on "Fifth Annual Land Ethics Symposium for Professionals")

This event will be held at the Sheraton Bucks County Hotel, Langhorne, Pennsylvania located in Bucks County and convenient to I-95 and the Pennsylvania Turnpike. The Symposium is sponsored by Bowman's Hill Wildflower Preserve, New Hope, Pennsylvania, and co-sponsored by Solebury Township, County of Bucks Office of the Commissioners, Andropogon Associates, the PA/DE Chapter of American Society of Landscape Architects and Temple University/Ambler.
