Kodak American Greenways grants program now accepting applications

The Kodak American Greenways Awards Program, a partnership project of the Eastman Kodak Company, the Conservation Fund, and the National Geographic Society, provides small grants to stimulate the planning and design of greenways in communities throughout America. In general, grants may be used for all appropriate expenses needed to complete a greenway project, including planning, technical assistance, legal, and other costs. Project examples include mapping, ecological assessments, surveying, conferences, and design activities; developing brochures, interpretative displays, audio-visual productions, or public opinion surveys; hiring consultants, incorporating land trusts, building a foot bridge, and planning a bike path. Eligible applicants include local, regional, or statewide nonprofit organizations. Public agencies may also apply, but community organizations will receive preference. Applications will only be accepted online from March 1 through June 1.
