Subject: PABIODIV: Biodiversity Conservation Handbook Published by ELI

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Environmental Law Institute is proud to announce the publication of The Biodiversity Conservation Handbook: State, Local & Private Protection of Biological Diversity, edited by Robert B. McKinstry, Jr., Coreen Ripp & Emily Lisy

The Biodiversity Conservation Handbook is designed to assist state and local policymakers who wish to "think globally and act locally" by developing a state or local biodiversity program.

"Wildlife survival depends on the proper maintenance of biologically-diverse ecosystems. The Biodiversity Conservation Handbook demonstrates how state and local governments, educators, and citizens can minimize ecological harm from pollution, climate change, and land development. The handbook also provides readers with several useful tools for protecting nature and increasing the resiliency of natural landscapes."

Larry J. Schweiger
President and CEO
National Wildlife Federation

Robert B. McKinstry, Jr. is the Maurice K. Goddard Professor of Forestry and Environmental Resource Conservation at Penn State's School of Forest Resources.
